Procedure for Applying to the Major in Africana Studies

If you have acquainted yourself with the requirements for the Africana Studies major from the Africana Undergraduate Studies Brochure or the ASRC website, you may bring or send the following documents to the Africana Studies and Research Center (ASRC), to the attention of Renee Milligan, in the ASRC main office, Room 103.

1. A letter of application (including local mailing address, email, and phone number) articulating your interest in the Africana Studies Major.
2. A tentative outline of the area of study you are considering (African, African American, or Caribbean) for the major.
3. A list of the ASRC courses you have taken, along with a plan of the ASRC courses you intend to take to complete the major.
4. A copy (unofficial) of your transcript, with ASRC courses highlighted.
5. You must confirm an advisor before you fill out the paperwork for the major. You are required to meet with your advisor at least once a semester to make sure you are on track to graduate.

A major in Africana Studies requires at least ten (10) Africana Studies (ASRC) courses (with a grade of C or better), distributed as follows:

- Introduction to Africana Studies
- 3 Courses: one course falling under each of the following categories (at the 2000 level or above)
 - African
 - African-American
 - Caribbean, or
 - Other Diasporan Studies
- 4 Courses: To generate a more specific focus, choose two topics (that fall within the African Diaspora) from the following: History, Literature, Politics, Popular Culture, Race and Inequality, or Gender and Sexuality, and take TWO courses in each of the chosen topics (at the 3000 level or above)
- 2 Seminar courses (at the 4000 level or above)

In addition to the major requirements (listed above), and the College of Arts and Sciences language and distribution requirements, students must complete four (4) to five (5) elective courses (at least 15 credits) not in the major field unless a student has a second major. Course substitution may be awarded on a case-by-case basis with the submission of a formal petition. Please contact Renee Milligan (ram25@cornell.edu) for more information.
